

Top Safety Accreditation for Kemps Architectural Lighting Ltd

Kemps Architectural Lighting is one of the latest groups of successful companies to join a leading edge scheme, designed to help industry improve its safety record.

The Leeds based firm recently received accreditation from SAFEcontractor, a programme which recognizes very high standards of health & safety practice amongst UK contractors.

Kemps Architectural Lighting is principally involved in the manufacture and installation of Cold Cathode Lighting with some of its most recent clients to include major players such as:

Hilton Hotels
Ritz Carlton
Harvey Nichols
Holiday Inn
Marriott
Savoy Hotel
Radisson SAS

The company's application for Safecontractor accreditation was driven by the need for a uniform standard across the business.

SAFEcontractor is operated by international safety, health and environmental risk management specialists, the National Britannia Group. The system is applicable to most sectors although it is particularly relevant to the retail and leisure sectors, all of which are big users of contract services.

Darren Hughes, Operations Director for Safecontractor at National Britannia said "Major organizations can no longer run the risk of employing contractors who are not able to prove that they have sound health & safety policies".

"More companies need to understand the importance of adopting good risk management in the way that Kemps Architectural Lighting has done. The firm's high standards have set an example, which hopefully will be followed by other companies within the sector.

Under the SAFEcontractor system, businesses undergo a vetting process, which examines health & safety processes and safety procedures and their track record for safe practice.

Safe contractor's data base enables organizations to vet potential contractors before going on site, ensuring they will engage only those who have received accreditation.
